1. General information

1.1 Description of the competition + Technique

Nordic Walking, abbreviated as "NW", used to be a training method for cross-country skiers and hikers. By using special poles, Nordic Walkers have a whole-body work-out to exercise the whole musculature of the upper and lower body. The permanent use of these poles results in a consistent step cycle. It is important to use the poles in a clearly energetic and active way. One foot must always touch the ground. The right pole touches the ground at the same time as the left heel, and the left pole at the same time as the right heel. Losing contact with the ground by two feet simultaneously is forbidden. The poles are maintained close to the body. They should always be used below the body's center of gravity, i.e. in the step position at the vertical body axis. The poles can be moved diagonally or by using the double pole technique. It is essential that the push-off leg and the arms are stretched out at the end of the step. When pushing off, Nordic Walkers must lift the arm behind the hips and further. It is not allowed to walk like a (non-Nordic) walker while tilting the hips, or to subtly run (with both feet off the ground)! Any sportsperson can take part in the world championship! As a precondition, however, participants must dominate the Nordic Walking technique and be able to use it in practice. It is not necessary to have a separate license or be member of a sports club.

- a) Planting poles and pushing off matches with your gait rhythm.
- b) Extensive arm movement underlining the arm passing the torso as the grip of the pole is released at the end of the swing.
- c) During marches special Nordic walking poles should be used. Fitness technique is advisable.

Net times/ Classification

The time is kept based on a chip integrated in the starting number. The chip is activated when the starting or finishing lines are crossed. In addition to the total time, each round is counted individually. What counts in the end is the net time. Thus, the winner will not be the first participant to cross the finishing line, but the one who achieves the best net time.

The classification is done according to DLO, starting from the year 2004 and older. A 'Championship is conducted from 3 walkers per age group in the target. If less than 3 Walker participate in the age group, this will be considered to count in the next younger age group. It can even be stepped down one time. If there are still no 3 Walker for the rating, everyone in his age group scored separately without german championship placement. (Score outside the official championship standings)
Exception: Youth vote can be considered for general class.

European Championship: 5 years counting (youth 16-20 / men/ women general 20-30 / than 5 years counting)

Walker "A" and B "on Sunday (times: A 1:10 / B: 1:35)
